WASHINGTON.

FACTS AND RUMORS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.

Chairman Atkins says he will have the legislature appropriation bill ready to report on Monday next. The legislation required for the transfer of all surveys to the Coast Survey, as recommended by the National Academy of Sciences, will be embodied in the legislative and sundry civil appropriation bills. It creates but one office, that of geological director, with a salary of six thousand dollars per annum.

THE ARLINGTON ESTATE.

The suit brought by the heirs of Mrs. Robert E. Lee to recover the value of the Arlington estate, a portion of which was taken for a National Soldiers' Cemetery, will be tried in in the U. S. Court at Alexandria on the 21st.

THE APPROPRIATIONS.

The House Appropriation Committee has nearly completed the army appropriation bill, with an aggregate about the same as last year. The committee today decided not to allow the part of the bill reorganizing the army to be incorporated in the appropriation bill, and will resist any attempt made to that end.

Secretary Sherman was before the committee today, asking the appropriation of $100,000 to defray the expense of transportation of coin from the mints and assay offices.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE.

The House bill to regulate interstate commerce was considered today by the Senate Commerce Committee. The measure is regarded with favor and a strong effort will be made to prevent its being amended, as such action may endanger its passage.

THE FISHERY QUESTION.

Secretary Evarts has requested Dr. Loring to invite the committee appointed at a public meeting in Gloucester on the fisheries, to bring their memorial to Washington and make such personal explanations of it as they may think proper.

THE NEW YORK NOMINATIONS.

The Senate Committee on Commerce had no quorum today, consequently no action was taken on the New York nominations.

PERSONAL.

Secretary Sherman was on the floor of the Senate today while Senator Beck was arraigning his management of the Treasury.

Ex-Postmaster General Croswell, who has of late years been at the head of a national bank here, has re-entered political life as one of the leaders of the Grant movement in Maryland.

Dr. William Everett of the Adams Academy, who has been here for some days, goes to Baltimore tonight to lecture before the Peabody Institute on the Latin poets.

A FRESH ATTACK ON BURNSIDE'S ARMY BILL.

Col. Benton, Commandant of the Springfield Arsenal, makes a vigorous attack on the Army Reorganization bill, and shows that the Government makes arms cheaper than it buys them. He says the cost to the Government of making a rifle is $11 70, while private makers charge $20 each. He says the Government, from 1861 to 1865, saved over $7,500,000 by making its own muskets.

SECRETARY SHERMAN CRITICISED.

Mr. Beck (Dem., Ky.) made a violent attack on Secretary Sherman in the Senate this afternoon, asserting that he had, in violation of law and his known duty, contracted the currency by retiring notes of small denominations and reissuing the money in notes of large denominations. He insisted that the identical notes should be replaced by duplicates. Mr. Sherman's treatment of silver and his relations with the Syndicate also came in for denunciation.

AN EASY-GOING SENATE.

The Senate took a vote this morning, which may be significant of an extra session. On a motion to adjourn Mr. Bayard suggested that they adjourn until Monday. The Senate often adjourns from Thursday to Monday, but at this stage of the session, and in the existing press of business, this Democratic movement is ominous.

THE LOUISIANA OUTRAGES.

Wholesale Murder of Blacks.—Tammany Jubilations.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.

Special New Orleans despatches give further particulars and evidence concerning the White League violence and political murders in Tensas Parish last October. The accounts exhibit horrible details of Democratic oppression. Between seventy-five and eighty colored men were brutally murdered. A score of witnesses attest the same bloody story, and the tragedy in Rev. Alfred Fairfax's residence is confirmed. The most remarkable feature of the Tensas case is the relentless manner in which the regular Democratic managers practised pernicious tactics against men of their own race and party.

The Tammany Society here celebrated the anniversary of Jackson's victory at the battle of New Orleans by a ball and dinner last night. The ball was a great success. Besides the leaders of Tammany, many other politicians and well-known residents were present. Many of the costumes of the ladies were rich and costly.

THE AFGHAN WAR.

THE BRITISH FORCES SERIOUSLY THREATENED.

LONDON, Jan. 8.

A dispatch to the Standard, from Hazar Pir, announces that General Roberts visited the principal fort of Kohosh on Monday, and was saluted by the Afghan garrison. The attitude of the marauding tribes around his camp, however, is so threatening that his force passed all Monday night under arms. The garrison at Peiwar, which was also threatened, have requested Gen. Roberts to send them reinforcements.

THE AMEER'S VISIT TO ST. PETERSBURG.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.

A Tashkend special says: Another letter was received by Gen. Kaufmann from Gen. Rosgonoff dated Dec. 25. The letter announces his arrival with the Ameer at Mazarisharif. It conveys the important information that Shere Ali still persists in his intention of going to St. Petersburg, whence Gen. Kaufmann has not as yet been instructed. The situation is therefore one of extreme delicacy and grows hourly more interesting.

Russian ladies are often inveterate smokers of cigarettes, and, at railroad stations and other points of transit, scratch their matches on walls or posts, like men. They frequently ask men for a light from their cigars, and are asked in return.

THE WEATHER.

Another Big Snow Storm Along the Hudson River.—Further Delay on the Railroads Expected.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Jan. 9.

A heavy snow storm in the valley of the Hudson set in today and continues tonight without abatement. The wind is fresh from the northeast. Trains going both ways are late. Railroad telegrams show that the snow storm prevails all the way from here to Buffalo and more serious delays are expected.

UTICA, Jan. 9.

Another heavy snow storm has raged all day and until 9 P. M. The wind came up and drifted the snow badly. The New York Central trains from the west were over two hours late.

Tilden endorsed by Hoosiers for 1880.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.

An Indianapolis dispatch says the leading Democrats of the Indiana Legislature yesterday endorsed Tilden as their choice for the Presidential nomination in 1880, and pronounced the financial question a dead issue.

.....Capt. Bogardus is performing a wonderful feat of breaking 6000 glass balls out of 6200 with his shot-gun, against Abe Kleinman of Chicago, Bogardus giving him 200 broken balls out of 1000. At the end of the first day he rested, having broken 3000 balls in 3000 shots without a miss. Kleinman fired at 400 balls, missing six.

Lucius Jarvis, of Jericho, L. I., saw the old year out in a peculiar vigil. Somebody had stolen from his wood pile; so he rigged a dead-fall sort of a trap. Tuesday night he heard the thing spring. Running, gun in hand, to the spot, he found his pet bull dog had become involved, as it were; and he slid in to help him out. By some unaccountable freak of the trap the dead-fall landed upon Mr. Jarvis's neck, and lying there beside his faithful dog, he was kept a prisoner through the night and watched the coming in of 1879 with mingled emotions. The coming of his neighbors pleased him better.

BOSTON LETTER.

BOSTON, Jan. 8.

In these days when the vexed question of "women's rights" is so often coming to the front in one form or another, it is a matter of general interest when anything which throws any real light on the subject is made known. Of particular importance is the question as to the relative strength and powers of the two sexes. The difference in quantity of physical strength is generally admitted, though many claim that the superior endurance of woman places her on an equality with man even in this respect. Whether there is a corresponding difference between the mental powers of men and women, is still a mooted question, many claiming that with equal opportunities and teaching, they are exactly alike; others saying that though differing mentally as well as physically, the female brain and reasoning faculties are quite equal to the male, their superiority in some respects off-setting their inferiority in others; while there are still some who hold the old ideas of man's vast superiority in every respect, physical, mental and moral.

But there is another view of the question, and that is, whether the senses of sight, hearing and touch are more, or less, or only equally accurate in woman as in man. And it is on this very point that I happened to gain a bit of information the other day, which interested me very much.

Business called me for a day to Brattleboro, Vermont, and having a couple of hours to spare, I accepted the invitation of a friend to go on a tour of inspection through the great organ manufactory of Messrs. Estey & Co. This establishment is the pride of Brattleboro, and really is, I believe, the largest one of the kind in the world. I did not expect to be particularly entertained, but went there as I would have gone almost anywhere, to while away those two long, idle hours, in a strange city. But I had not proceeded far before I found myself suddenly interested. I had not looked for women among the workers in this great establishment, but I found them nevertheless, as where do we not, now-a-days?

In a series of little rooms, shut closely in from the noise and confusion outside, were a number of ladies, each having a room and an organ to herself. On a table were arranged, in regular order, the little reeds which were to become the very soul of the now inanimate mass of wood and metal which I have just called an organ, but which would not really be one until reeds had been manipulated by the delicate fingers, and answered the test demanded by the acute ears of their mistress. The first thing was to gain a free movement of the tiny metal tongue in each reed, by filing it down with a fine steel file. Then each one was tried in turn, calling out a somewhat unmusical sound, by clinking it with a little sheet of brass, as thin as paper. If the tone thus elicited was the least trifle sharp or flat, a few more strokes of the file, applied to the tip or the base of the tongue, somewhat remedied the defect; and the most dexterous manipulation of the tip with other delicate tools, gave the required soft, sweet and pure quality of tone for which the Estey organ is celebrated.

Now this tuning and "voicing" the instrument is a process than which none in the whole manufacture is more important, as is self-apparent; and to the credit of their employers be it said, the women who do this delicate work are paid exactly the same salaries which are paid to men who do the same work. The tuning, in particular, is now nearly monopolized by women, and is it not a significant fact that this work, on which the reputation of their organs so largely depends, should be entrusted to women by this firm, who are shrewd, keen-sighted business men and who would not take this step, unless because they considered the senses of touch and hearing to be more acute and sensitive in women than in men!

Other manufacturers of organs, and pianos too, (among them the celebrated Chickering and Sons) have begun to employ women in the more delicate branches of their work, though whether they are equally just in the matter of salaries, I cannot say.

I received a letter the other day from a young lady friend who lives in a Southern city, and is coming to Boston to study music, and among the branches which she wishes to take up, she named the tuning and repairing of instruments, with as much nonchalance as if this were an every-day employment of the fair sex. I wrote her in answer, that the Director of the school where she intends to study, would doubtless give her letters of introduction to some of the best manufacturers here, as he does to male students who wish to study tuning, and she might be able to make arrangements with some of them. But I dont know—it seems to me to be rather severe work for feminine hands and arms.

TRIMONTAINE.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

OUR TENURE OF LIFE

Depends in great measure upon our regard for or neglect of the laws of health. If we violate them we cannot expect to "make old bones." But that the span of existence allotted to a naturally delicate constitution, or one which has been shaken by disease may be materially lengthened, is a fact of which we have daily proof. The vivifying and restorative influence of Hostetters Stomach Bitters upon a failing physique affords a striking illustration of the power of judicious medication to strengthen the hold on life. Restored digestion, complete assimilation, renewed appetite, sound repose, these are among the benefits conferred upon the debilitated by that supreme renovant. With a circulation enriched, a frame invigorated, and a nervous system tranquilized, the invalid, after a course of the Bitters, feels that his life-tenure is no longer the precarious thing that it was—that he may yet enjoy a "green old age."

JANUARY, 1879!

WITHIN the first week of the year all bills due the undersigned on January 1st, will be sent for payment. It is of much importance to him that all these bills, however small, should be paid in the early part of the month. To the select few—scattered through every social rank and all degrees of pecuniary ability—who make the payment of their obligations a point of honor, he presents thanks in advance, hoping that they may so infuse the mass of mankind with the spirit of their honorable ways that shabbiness of principle and disregard of honor and truth may disappear from the earth.

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 00 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 10, 1879.

That $9,000,000 expenditure at Albany is a Capitol mistake.

Call for the Newport Journal at the news rooms this evening.

The Springfield Republican is coming to be known as the Democratic pup.

What has become of Ben Butler? He has scarcely been heard from since Congress opened.

Now that they have so much sugar in Congress the members ought to be sweet-tempered.

The Democrats at Washington are figuring for an extra session of the Senate. They are in haste to get the reins in their own hands.

There was another heavy snow storm in Western New York yesterday. There is no want of material for sleighing in that locality.

A bill is before the New York Legislature providing for free canals in that state. Why not go the whole figure and give the people free railroads as well.

Secretary Sherman is recognized as looming up for the presidency. Hence the Democratic efforts to remove in some way this "hindrance" to their schemes.

Mr. Conkling has presented a memorial in the Senate, from the New York Chamber of Commerce asking the establishment of a signal station on Block Island.

The Greenbackers in the Maine Legislature actually hissed Gov. Garcelon when he was reading that portion of his address in which he declared in favor of hard money and against the legal tender act.

Registry voters who have had their names enrolled must now pay up, as tomorrow is the last day. Each man must settle the bill for himself as the law does not allow it to be done for him by political aspirants as formerly.

Governor Hartranft, in his annual message, states that Pennsylvania has paid the sum of $104,000 annually for the past eight years for the suppression of labor troubles within her borders, and the loss to capital and to workmen obliged to be idle has amounted to many millions.

A private letter from Springfield, Ill., says there is serious talk among the Republicans, of electing Gen. Grant U. S. Senator, to succeed Mr. Oglesby. The fight between Oglesby and Logan has become so bitter, it is feared neither can be elected, and in this emergency, it is proposed to unite on Gen. Grant.

Mr. Bisbee, the defeated Republican candidate for Representative in the Second Florida District, has again appealed to the State Supreme Court, and that body will review the decision of the State board and interpret not only the law but also the decision of the court rendered in the Drew case in 1876, which gave the State Democratic State officers.

Postmaster General Key accompanied by his Assistant Knapp, Postmaster James of New York, Superintendent Jackson of the railway mail service, and Postmaster Coggeshall of this city returned Thursday to New York, from the ceremonies attending the opening of the new Capitol at Albany. Postmaster Gen. Key and party were the recipients of many attentions from eminent persons in Albany, and Wednesday evening were the guests of Hon. John M. Francis, of the Troy Times.

"Perley" telegraphs that the Democratic members of the Potter Committee had a very earnest consultation today as to their future course. Like the Apostle Paul, they are in a straight betwixt two. There is great pressure from certain Democratic quarters to have an investigation of the cipher dispatches. There is equally great pressure from other Democratic quarters, as influential, opposing an investigation. Gen. Butler, meanwhile, is an unknown factor in the controversy, and exaggerated reports of his intentions and of his knowledge of occult things make his absence more mysterious and speculations as to his acts when present more distressing. The indications all are that an investigation will be undertaken. Meanwhile the Republican members of the committee express the utmost unconcern. They consider the case proved against the Democracy and do not believe that the Tilden leaders can extricate themselves from that position by any amount of ingenious swearing.

General Grant was called upon for a gallant action at a recent Paris reception. Mrs. Hooper says that just as he was about to depart with Mrs. Grant leaning upon his arm, his hostess remarked, leading forward her young daughter, "General, with Mrs. Grant's permission, I should like to ask of you to accord a favor to my daughter. My grandmother, when a girl of thirteen, was kissed by General Washington, and I should like my daughter in after years to be able to say that she had been kissed by General Grant." The young lady blushed, and the General gravely bestowed the salute.

A Belfast (Ireland) despatch says that at Coleraine, Grant entered the depot, received an address, and responded. At Belfast his reception was extraordinary. Mills stopped work, and the workmen stood out in the rain by thousands. The Mayor and council welcomed Grant, and a public luncheon was served, at which the Roman Catholic bishop of the diocese was given the post of honor. Grant goes direct to London to await the arrival of the steamer Richmond. His visit in Ireland has aroused party and religious feeling. One inflammatory appeal calls upon the Irishmen to welcome Grant as the great Orange Republican who had shot dead sixty papists who attempted to stop an Orange procession on Broadway. It is believed if Grant had gone to Cork a riot would have occurred.

The cumulative story of outrage and murder, told before the Teller committee, shows that there are parts of Louisiana in which the people are essentially barbaric, and so prone to deeds of blood that, if the communities in the disorderly sections had their deserts, martial law would be declared among them for the purpose of punishing the perpetrators of the atrocious outrages against rights and persons. If the new Congress has the least savor of decency, it will take the earliest occasion to disfellowship representatives who were elected through the influence of atrocities such as have been proved as occurring in Louisiana. The startling evidence before the Congressional committee of men who have themselves suffered because daring to oppose the Democratic party will not tend to increase the strength of that party in the North.—[Boston Transcript.

THE RAILROAD EMBARGO.

The snow blockade of the New York Central and its branches was the most terrific and long continued of any on record. The telegraphic reports have told us from day to day of the disabled locomotives and broken cars, and now that the passengers have been heard from, we have an interesting story of deprivation if not actual suffering. The correspondence of the World writes that in the cars of the wrecked train were 600 passengers. That great loss of life did not accompany the accident was simply miraculous. The engineer was killed, and Mr. Clough had a leg broken in two places. Conductor John Holmes was also seriously injured. The six engines were scattered about the tracks in every possible condition. The storm raged all night fiercer than ever, and the passengers in the wrecked train, giving up all hopes of relief, passed the night without sleep. Superintendent Burrows started from Rochester for the wreck Friday with six engines, but all got off the track a few miles east of Rochester. The storm continued Friday, rendering all attempts to rescue the imprisoned passengers futile. In the meantime the farmers living in the vicinity forced their way to it Friday morning and supplied the passengers with coffee and baked beans. The conductor made his way to Fairport and succeeded in returning with a scant supply of provisions, which lasted until Friday night. On Saturday the conductor again went to Fairport and returned with a sleigh load of provisions. The 600 passengers took matters good-naturedly and express the highest gratitude to the farmers who came to their relief, even with a scanty supply of provisions. On board the trains were H. M. Twombly, son-in-law of W. H. Vanderbilt, and his wife, and J. H. Rutter, general freight agent of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad. They had been to Rochester to attend the funeral of George Whitney, a Director of the Central railroad, and were on their way home. A number of friends in Rochester on Saturday determined to rescue them at all hazards, and started in a four-horse sleigh, but the roads were drifted so badly that they were compelled to strike out across lots, the farmers assisting them to cut away the drifts. After herculean efforts the party succeeded in reaching the train. They found the passengers in pretty good shape, as help had already reached them from Fairport. The embargoed passengers stayed in the cars till Sunday, when relief came, and the rescued were brought back to Rochester.

Meantime a similar state of affairs existed on the Auburn road. At Pittsford, ten miles from Rochester, the Baltimore express, which left Rochester Thursday afternoon, became hopelessly stalled and snowed under. Most of the ladies had come in to Rochester in the morning to do shopping, and, the day being pleasant, had not brought extra wraps with them. The force of the wind was so great that the snow was beaten into the car to such an extent as to make puddles on the floor. It was impossible to keep warm three feet away from the stove. Those in the sleeping car fared a good deal better. Friday was spent in the most lively manner possible, and Friday night was again passed in the cars. Saturday morning the snow-bound passengers were delighted to see a six-horse sleigh and a gang of men approaching. All of the passengers who were embargoed unite in saying that never again will they start in a snow-storm. The Syracuse and Oswego road and the Syracuse Northern are still embargoed, but will be dug out by Wednesday or Thursday.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—Postmaster Coggeshall is in New York.

—Passed Assistant Surgeon N. McP. Frisbee has been detached from the training ship Minnesota, and placed on waiting orders.

—Redwood Lodge No. 11, K. of P., has been presented with a full set of officers' jewels, said to be among the finest in the state.

—The report in the Journal this morning that Sergeant Gilloray, the new signal officer, had arrived, is incorrect. He will not be here for several days.

—Miss Cayvan was the guest of Mrs. Henry Bull, Jr., on Bull street during her stay in Newport. She was driven about the city this morning and left this afternoon.

—An old man named John Jones, residing on Holland street, was found dead in his bed at an early hour last evening. He lived alone. No inquest was deemed necessary.

—The monthly concert of the Sunday school connected with the Union Congregational Church will be held Sunday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. Subject, "We wish you a happy new year."

—The funeral of the late Mr. G. C. Williams was solemnized this afternoon and was attended by St. John's Lodge, No. I, A. F. & A. M., and also by Charles E. Lawton Post, No. 5, G. A. R.

—Wednesday evening the members of Redwood Lodge K. of P. partook of a collation at the Germania Hotel prepared by Mr. George Boose, who, we understand, will take possession of that hotel on and after January 15th.

—The New York Marine Society is interesting itself in behalf of the widow of the late George C. Williams and will leave nothing undone that will tend to her securing the position at the Rose Island lighthouse made vacant by the death of her husband.

—The storm yesterday afternoon and evening was very severe. The wind blew almost a hurricane at about midnight. The walking was as bad as could be and several serious falls are reported. The New York boats made their trips as usual at each end of the route.

—A change in the order of Sunday services at the Second Baptist Church has been made so that there will be Sunday school and Bible service at 10.30 A. M., and preaching at 2 30 and 7 P. M. The change will take effect next Sunday and will continue three months.

—Charles E. Bryer was tried at the Justice Court this morning upon a complaint for non-maintenance of his family and was adjudged to be guilty upon the testimony of his wife and that of Officers Hammond, Denham, and Curtis, and sentenced to six months at the State Farm.

DAUGHTERS OF REBEKAH.—At a regular meeting of Esther Lodge No. 5, Daughters of Rebekah, Wednesday evening, the following officers were duly installed for the ensuing year by D. D. G. M. John Pitman, assisted by the Grand officers;—

N. G.—Mr. J. T. Delano.
V. G.—Mrs. Margaret Lee.
S.—Mrs. Mary B. Pitman.
T.—Mrs. Julia Carry.
W.—Mrs. J. Carr.
C.—Mrs. J. Bliss.
O. G.—Mrs. F. Barlow.
I. G.—Mrs. J. Parmenter.
R. S. to M. G.—Mrs. D. Brown.
L. S. to M. G.—Mrs. Keen.
Chaplain—Mrs. E. Freeman.
R. S. to V. G.—Mrs. C. H. Burdick.
L. S. to V. G.—Mrs. S. Goddard.

SLIGHT FIRE.—A slight fire, caused by the furnace igniting the floor, occurred Thursday afternoon at the villa on Marine avenue owned by Mrs. S. P. Ludlum, of Baltimore, which she recently purchased from Mr. T. M. Adams, of New York. The fire department responded with its usual promptness. The flames were extinguished by use of the fire extinguisher in the hands of the members of the Hook & Ladder Company. The damage was very light, probably not exceeding $100. Mrs. Ludlum sent word to the person in charge of the house to build the fires, as she expected to arrive for the winter in a day or two. The accident happened while the person was at dinner.

LECTURES.—A course of lectures will be delivered at the chapel of Emmanuel Church upon successive Friday evenings, on the Cities of the Holy Land. Subject this evening "Hebron, the City of the Giants, the Cemetery of the Patriarchs."

WARWICK YACHT CLUB.—At the regular meeting of the Warwick Yacht Club, held on Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

Commodore—Andrew Robeson, yacht Tahena, Fall River.
Vice Commodore—E. P. Sands, yacht Lizzie L., Newport.
Rear Commodore—John K. H. Nightingale, yacht Warwick, Providence.
Secretary—Howard L. Clark, Providence.
Treasurer—W. C. Rhodes, Providence.
Measurer—James N. Hart, Newport.
Regatta Committee—S. O. Blodget, Jr., William G. Roelker, H. C. Allen, C. V. Chapin, E. C. Learned, W. C. Rhodes, all of Providence.

"ELI PERKINS."

A fair sized audience braved the storm last evening to listen to "Eli Perkins" in the Odd Fellows' course of lectures. Those who ventured out, we doubt not, were well paid for their trouble. The lecturer, who is a very pleasing speaker and who makes a good impression as soon as he commences his work, was introduced by Mr. Horton.

Mr. Perkins introduced the audience to the "Perkins" family, whose "portraits" were painted on large pieces of canvas and hung upon the wall. He explained the difference between wit and humor and showed that there was a great difference between the two. His jokes, puns and witticisms were well received and his hearers were kept in a roar of laughter during the evening. They were not allowed to keep still and those who never smiled were forced to give way to their feelings and they frankly acknowledged that "Eli Perkins" was the funniest man they had ever heard. His remarks on the Perkins family, their peculiarities, way of living, &c., brought down the house and, notwithstanding he spoke one hour and three quarters, he held the attention of his enthusiastic audience during the evening. Mr. Perkins may well feel proud of the cordial reception which he met and with the favorable impression which he made upon his first visit to Newport.

MISS CAYVAN'S READINGS.

Had the storm been harder and the walking worse, which it could have hardly been in some parts of the city, last night, no one who heard Miss Cayvan could have regretted the laborious effort which getting to the Opera House on foot was; for this young lady gave us a very charming entertainment. She is charming in face, figure, voice and manner and she gave us a program, varied enough to show that she is very versatile, capable of interpreting and rendering with much power and dramatic skill, tragedy, and pathetic story telling, as well as the lighter and popular selections from Habberton and the Hawkeye, which she gave with exceeding grace and excellent imitation. She has a musical voice—the music of her "Bob-o-link" will linger long in the ear—perfect enunciation and no affectations of style. Miss Cayvan is very young, almost girlish in her appearance, and if we mistake not gives promise of being great in the profession she has chosen. To hold an audience as she held it last night was a remarkable thing for a young lady to do in simple "readings"; for some of our best readers and hardest dramatic students are finding it necessary to resort to costumes, impersonations and stage tricks. We only regret that she had not parted with us as Bianca, rather than as the Hawkeye editor, for the impression she made as the first, was one upon which the latter jarred a trifle. But this is not criticism, only a suggestion; and perhaps an audience as a whole, would rather go away with a laugh, than hushed by the mad torture and death of poor Bianca as Miss Cayvan so powerfully depicted it.

This lady is sure to find a welcome in our lecture courses in the future; for certainly no entertainment has been more pleasing, and no entertainer elicited more demonstrative and generous applause. Considering the storm and the icy sidewalks the audience was very large. Rev. A. A. Willetts is the next in the course.

BROOKLYN YACHT CLUB.—At a meeting of the Brooklyn Yacht Club held Wednesday evening at the rooms of the club in Brooklyn, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—Commodore, John S Dickerson, of the schooner Madeline; Vice Commodore James D. Smith, of the schooner Estelle; Rear Commodore, R. S. Huntley of the sloop Niantic; President, Henry W. Turner; Secretary and Treasurer, William Lee; Assistant Secretary, W. R. Wadsworth; Treasurer, J. M. Sawyer; Judge Advocate, Henry C. Place; Trustees, D. S. Hines, P. W. Ostrander, M. T. Davidson and H. S. Wood, together with the flag officers; Committee on Membership, J. L. Blood, F. W. Jenkins and J. F. Ames; Regatta Committee, J. F. Ames, P. W. Ostrander and A. C. Washington.

GLEANINGS AND GOSSIP.

Steamer Rhode Island is undergoing repairs at Stonington.

New Haven will apply to Congress for appropriations of $115,000 to improve her harbor.

Ex-President Grant was the guest of American Minister Welsh Wednesday. He expected to leave London for Paris.

The ice bridge at Niagara Falls has become a fixture, and the ice scenery is increasing in beauty and grandeur each day. Trees and shrubs are breaking down under the weight of frozen spray, which is over three feet thick on trunks of trees and posts in the vicinity of the falls.

During the year 1878 forty-eight American railroads, with a mileage of 3,902 miles and an invested capital of $311,631,000, were sold or passed into the hands of receivers, the totals for three years being 132 roads, 13,623 miles and $728,463,000 of capital. In that period one-seventh of the total mileage and considerably more than one-seventh of the total capital investment have passed through the final stage of bankruptcy.

THE CROOKED COURSE OF LOVE.

RECOVERY OF THE OAKLAWN ELOPERS.—THE USE THEY MADE OF THEIR TIME TOGETHER.

The Bulletin, Wednesday, gave an account of the elopement from Oaklawn of Leander Babcock and Lillian Randall, the former 20 and the latter about 17 years of age. Babcock had been in the habit of visiting Miss Randall, but was not an acceptable suitor in the eyes of the young lady's parents. He had tried to get Miss Randall to elope with him, but his plans had been frustrated up to Tuesday morning, when the young couple disappeared. They were traced through Phenix, Natick and neighboring villages, and were last heard of coming toward Providence.

About 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, a young man knocked at the door of Mr. Casey B. Tyler's house, in Centreville. Mrs. Tyler went to the door, and the young man asked if his sister and himself might come in. He said they were hungry, and that he would play upon his guitar, and, like "little Tommy Tucker," sing for his supper. Mrs. Tyler invited them in, and the young man played and sang until into the evening. Mrs. Tyler at length asked her guests, who had given the names of Harry and Jennie Hudson, if they had much further to go

Mr. "Hudson" remarked, with cheerful simplicity, that they had come from New Orleans and were going to New Haven, but as he had business in East Greenwich they had turned out of the way. If it was all the same to Mrs. Tyler, they would stay there over night. Mrs. Tyler thought it would not be perfectly convenient, but she intimated that they might find lodgings at the house of Mrs. Eddy, near by. Mr. Hudson went over to investigate and returned with the information that they could stay at Mrs. Eddy's. They did so, still claiming to be brother and sister, albeit Mrs. Eddy marvelled at the unwonted brotherly affection manifested by the young man.

Wednesday morning Mr. "Hudson" went out for an hour or two, and when he came back said that he had found employment for himself and his sister in the mill. There were charms about working in a factory which threw the East Greenwich business and the New Haven journey all in the shade. The young man is supposed to have sung for his breakfast and dinner, as he and "Jennie" partook of those meals at Mrs. Eddy's.

In the afternoon, the queerness of the young couple's ways came to the ears of Mr. Albert Tyler, the station master at Centreville. Mr. Tyler had just received his Bulletin, and had read the account of the elopement. The description of Lillian Randall agreed with the appearance of "Jennie Hudson," and Mr. Tyler was satisfied that the elopers were found. An officer was notified, and he presently put in an appearance at the house of Mrs. Eddy. "Jennie" was there, but "Harry" was missing. In vain the officer waited, in vain he searched. It was concluded that Harry had taken the alarm, and had determined to continue his journey alone.

Somebody went to Oaklawn to notify Miss Randall's parents that their daughter had been found, she meantime remaining at Mrs. Eddy's. An hour or two afterward Mr. "Hudson," that is to say, Mr. Babcock, appeared. To speak more exactly, he crawled out from under a lounge in an upstairs tenement, where he had fled when the officer drew nigh. He said he thought he might as well give himself up, and he was presently accommodated with lodgings at the station house in Arctic.

About midnight, Wednesday night, one of Miss Randall's brothers appeared at Mrs. Eddy's, and Lillian was produced. Her brother greeted her pleasantly, calling her "Lily," but the young lady did not appear to recognize her brother. In fact, she ignored him altogether. After two or three vain attempts to overcome her dissatisfaction, her brother remarked "Well, she is going home with me," and she went. Mr. Randall stopped at Arctic and identified Mr. Babcock, who, however, took no pleasure in interviews with the brother of his sweetheart. It was expected that Mr. Babcock would be released yesterday, there being, it was thought, no legal hold upon him.—[Prov. Journal.

GENERAL GRANT AND THE IRISH CATHOLICS.

The refusal of the Town Council of Cork to tender the hospitalities of that city to the distinguished American ex-President is exciting more feeling, both in Ireland and America, than so trivial an event deserves. The effect in Ireland has been to increase and intensify the demonstrations of welcome in the Irish towns through which General Grant has since passed, as if Irishmen felt it incumbent upon them to vindicate their character for generous hospitality. We can judge of the effect in this country only by the letters addressed to us by citizens of Irish birth, not knowing whether these letters express merely the individual sentiments of the writers or whether they may be entitled to a representative character. The action at Cork was so singular, it deviates so widely from the treatment which has been bestowed upon General Grant in the many Catholic countries and cities in all parts of Europe which he has visited, that it is difficult to believe that the exceptional proceeding of the Town Council of Cork was self-prompted and spontaneous. In Catholic France, in Catholic Italy, in Catholic Spain, the highest municipal and social honors have been paid to General Grant, without any thought that Catholics who participated in those complimentary displays compromised their religion. General Grant's visit to the Catholic city of Dublin was no exception to the general heartiness and enthusiasm. But, all of a sudden, to the astonishment of all the world, up starts the Town Council of Cork with a denunciation of General Grant as a bigoted enemy of the Catholic faith. Cork is a small and obscure town, and it seems odd enough that it was reserved to this petty city to discover what had escaped the knowledge of all Europe during the long period while General Grant has been so conspicuous a recipient of unwonted honors and hospitalities.

Strange and odd as the Cork demonstration may seem, it is easily accounted for. The action at Cork has probably been inspired by American politicians. It was not until after his visit to Ireland was announced that politicians in the United States took any special interest in his travels. When the Catholics of France entertained and honored him it was thought to be of no consequence, since the French residents in the United States rarely get naturalized and the French vote is of little account. The Italian and Spanish residents are still fewer and more inconsiderable, and it is a matter of indifference how they may vote, if any of them are entitled to vote. But when it became known that General Grant was to make the tour of Ireland there sprang up a sudden fear of its effect on the large Irish vote of this country. It was felt that a series of splendid Irish ovations to General Grant would be regarded in this country as a dangerous indorsement of his character. We behold the consequence of this American fear in the attempt made at Cork to arouse Irish bigotry. Communication with Ireland is swift and easy, and the Cork demonstration is an American device for breaking the effect of a hearty Irish welcome on the "Irish brigade" in this country.

In our judgment the American Catholics will make a great mistake if they raise this religious issue. It cannot hurt him with the American Protestants, who are a large majority of the American people, and it has a tendency to divide the Irish vote. There are many Catholics who will believe that he is unjustly accused, and all such will be more influenced by the example of Dublin than by the example of Cork. It is an egregious folly to bring religious controversies into American politics, because our institutions are founded on a basis of perfect religious equality. It is worse than folly, it is lunacy, for a sect which is a minority to stir up such controversies, and, by a display of religious rancor, to provoke a like spirit of intolerance on the other side. There is no excuse for introducing religion into American politics, and at a time when the country is disposed to ignore such issues it is a blunder which approaches the magnitude of a crime for Catholics to lend themselves as tools to politicians for reviving them.—[N. Y. Herald.

HEED HIM NOT.—The latest victimizing dodge is this: A stout man comes along and tells the mistress of the house where he decides to call that the sidewalk has not been properly cleaned. He claims to be employed by the city to look after such matters, and orders the last vestiges of snow to be removed within one hour or there will be a fine to pay. He is accompanied by a man who will do the work for twenty-five or fifty cents, as the case may be, and in quite a number of cases women have been frightened into having the work done. The city employs no such person, except he wears a policeman's uniform and badge, and nobody need heed the stout man's blustering statements.—[Prov. Journal.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Merchants who have dealings with Leavenworth, Kansas, may well look to their credit books, for the tax-payers held a meeting on the 6th inst., to see how far they can repudiate their bonded indebtedness. The proposition to pay fifty cents on a dollar for the principal is denounced by a local paper as too much, and twenty-five cents on a dollar, it is claimed, is all that the people ought to pay. What action was taken has not yet reached us, but a town where repudiation of the public debt is advocated will bear watching.—[Boston Journal.

Not for Grant's sake, but for Ireland's, we are sorry for the Cork blunder, and every self-respecting Irishman, in Ireland and America, will regret it. For the sake of this friendly Republic, Cork should have honored the representative, even if she disliked the man. Such conduct would be magnanimous and splendid. Her present position is the reverse. But the vote of the corporation did not represent Cork.—[The Pilot.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes much farther and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; its costs but 2c. a pound, Cream of Tartar over 30c. The Royal Baking Powder is recommended for its wholesomeness by such eminent chemists as Dr. Mott, New York: Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.

☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere.

TO LET.—A house with seven chambers, besides servants' room, with plumbing, gas, etc., in a central and pleasant part of the city. Will be let for one or a term of years. Rent $400. The house is well situated for a summer residence or for summer boarders. Inquire of L. D. DAVIS, at office of Daily News and Newport Journal. nov18

RENTABLE.—The well-known chambers in the brick store over Adams Express Company, (perhaps the most central and eligible rooms in the city) for a term of years, to responsible persons for legitimate purposes. Possession immediate, as Messrs. Norman & Weaver have just removed therefrom. Terms reasonable. Inquire of owner. ap18

FOR SALE.—The Dr. Mann Farm, formerly the property of the late Edward King, situated in North Portsmouth, near the Stone Bridge; contains about 210 acres, has a frontage of two miles on good wide roads and about one mile on the shore; cut over one hundred tons of good hay the past season. This farm has great prospective value and can be bought at farming prices. Anyone wishing to make an investment, this is a rare chance, as I can rent it to pay 5 per cent. on the price asked for it. Apply or address DANIEL WATSON, feb12 165 Thames Street, Newport, R. I.

Valuable Land For Sale.

THE LOT OF LAND, running from School to Division streets, containing between 9,000 and 10,000 feet, finely planted with trees and shrubs, the most eligible lot in the central part of the city, is offered for sale. For particulars inquire of

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed made by William G. Peckham, with Mary H. Peckham his wife in release of dower, to Mary Ann Peckham, dated March, A. D. 1875, and acknowledged and received for record on the 25th day of the same March and recorded in Volume 11, pages 366 and 367, of the Mortgages and Land Evidence of the city of Newport, in the State of Rhode Island, (the condition of said mortgage having been broken):—

The said mortgagee will sell at public auction, on the premises and property hereinafter described, on Saturday, the 25th day of January, A. D. 1879, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, all the right, title and interest which said William G. Peckham had at the time of the execution of said mortgage (with the inchoate right of dower of his said wife) in and to all that lot of land, with all the buildings and improvements thereon and the appurtenances thereof, situated in said Newport, known as Commercial Wharf, and bounded North on Lyon's Wharf and partly on Scott's Wharf and partly on the Dock, East partly on land purchased by said William of Joseph Lyon, and partly on lands of the National Bank of Rhode Island, South on lands of the Devisees of the late John S. Langley, and partly on the Dock, and being, however otherwise bounded, the same premises conveyed to said mortgagee by Charles Devens.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed made and executed by William G. Peckham of Newport, in the State of Rhode Island, (Mary H. Peckham, wife of said William, joining therein in release of her right of dower in the mortgaged premises) to the Savings Bank of Newport, dated February 20, 1869, and recorded in Volume 7 pages 580 and 581 of the Mortgage, Land Evidence of said Newport, which said mortgage was on the 7th day of December, A. D. 1876, assigned by the said Savings Bank to John N. A. Griswold, of said Newport, the undersigned will sell at public auction on the premises and property hereinafter described, at 12 o'clock noon, on Saturday, January 25th, 1879, the lands and premises hereinafter described and all the right, title and interest which the said William G. Peckham had therein at the time of the execution of the said mortgage, and the inchoate right of dower of the said Mary H. Peckham therein, (the condition of the said mortgage, deed having been broken), to-wit,:

"All the following described real estate, to wit.: all and singular the lands and wharves (with all and singular the buildings and improvements thereupon) conveyed to said William G. Peckham, by Charles Devens by deed dated May 1st, 1849, recorded in Volume 27, pages 442, 443 and 444 of the Land Evidence of the City of Newport, in the State of Rhode Island, and by deed dated July 19th, 1855, recorded in Volume 31, pages 183 and 184 of said Land Evidence, and by Benjamin G. Hunt by deed dated October 16, 1877, recorded in Volume 34, pages 52 and 53 of said Land Evidence and by Nathan M. Chaffee, by deed dated February 15th, 1865, recorded in Volume 38, pages 331 and 332 of said Land Evidence, all which deeds are hereby referred to and made a part hereof for more particular description of said granted premises."

And the undersigned hereby gives notice to said William G. Peckham, to Mary Ann Peckham (the supposed holder of a second mortgage on the said premises or a part thereof) and to all others interested that he intends to bid at said sale, upon the lands and premises herein advertised for sale.

WM. A. H. AIKMAN.

Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 10, 1879.

WISDOM.

He truly lives who lives in others' hearts.

A man must be mightier than the difficulties confronting him.

All that is best and purest in human civilization springs from Christianity.

Give, if thou canst, an alms; if not, afford instead of that a sweet and gentle word.

The chains of habit are generally too small to be felt till they are too strong to be broken.

Among those who labor for future happiness, he is greatest who lives well in his own household.

A miser of sixty years old refuses himself necessaries, that he may not need them when he is a hundred.

Art gives woman her false hair, false eyes and false teeth, but the devil furnishes her with a false tongue—when she desires one.

That family is the best who obtain not unjustly, keep not unfaithfully, and spend in a way that produces no repentance.

FEMALE FREEMASONS.

Recently the Observer, after referring to the fact that the Hon. Mrs. Aldsworth is supposed to be the only female Freemason in the world, divulged the fact that Mrs. B. B. Babington, who was at one time a resident of this state, was also a member of the ancient and honorable Order. The Observer's article has brought out the Shelby Aurora to the front, and in its issue recently the editor, Mr. J. B. Babington, writes as follows: "Inasmuch as the lady referred to in the above article is our mother, we deem it our duty to republish it and make the necessary corrections. The story is correct with the exception of places and ages. The lady's father was a native of New York, and moved to Greenup county, Ky., where our mother was born and raised. The place where she was made a Mason was an unfinished church room. She secreted herself under the pulpit, going in at an entrance from the side, and was eventually discovered while leaving her hiding-place after the lodge had adjourned. She was about fifteen years old when she was made a Mason, and our father did not join the Order for nearly twenty years after they were married. We do not belong to the Order, but we have it from men who do that she is brighter in Masonry than a large number of men who have passed to the third degree. Our mother is still living, and is now in Boyd county, Ky., a few miles from where she was first initiated into the mysteries of that ancient Order of Masons."—[Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.

INSURANCE

AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE

CAUSED BY

ACCIDENT, INCENDIARISM, LIGHTNING,

Or any Other Cause.

I REPRESENT the oldest company in America, and also the largest company in the United States, together with other standard American and European institutions. The Ætna of Hartford alone has paid over $15,000,000 in losses, and has now $7,000,000 assets in hand.

Insurance in such companies, with ample means, and an established reputation for fair dealing, is worth much more than in any of the numerous weaklings that totter along for a while and then go down. About fifty such companies have failed during the last year, and as many others are on the way to ruin.

The rates in these first-class companies are no higher than in the small and doubtful concerns.

Farm property taken very low for three or five years.

All losses settled at this office. For terms call on, or address by mail the undersigned at the office of this paper. L. D. DAVIS.

DO YOU VALUE HEALTH?

If so avoid the unhealthy and dangerous compounds with which the market is flooded and use only the wonderful

CZAR BAKING POWDER.

The purest, healthiest, strongest and best Baking or Yeast Powder in the world. Read what Prof. S. W. Johnson of Sheffield Scientific School, Yale College, has to say of the purity and healthfulness of the Czar Baking Powder.

New Haven, November 22, 1878.

Messrs. Steele & Emery:

Gentlemen:—I have made a careful chemical examination of the Czar Baking Powder, and find it composed only of wholesome materials: it contains no alum, no phosphate of lime, nor any deleterious substances.

PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston,

Secures patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Opinion of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. No agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions. R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the patent office.

EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly,

GEORGE DRAPER.

AND CAREFULLY ARRANGED WITH SPECIAL REGARD TO THE WANTS OF READERS IN CITY OR COUNTRY WHO WANT A

GOOD NEWPORT PAPER

BUT WHO DO NOT TAKE A DAILY FROM THIS CITY.

Let the JOURNAL be compared with any other weekly paper published in the south part of the state and its superiority in the quantity and quality of its contents, particularly in its news departments, will be at once seen. In it are found every week all the minor matters of local news and reports of entertainments, meetings, celebrations, etc., in Newport and vicinity that in fullness and excellence will compare favorably with reports in the papers of larger cities.

We state not so much an opinion as a fact, that will become apparent to any disinterested person who compares it with other papers, when we say that, for all residents of Newport county and all persons who have moved out of the county but wish to keep posted regarding affairs at their old home, the best paper without exception

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Great Through Line

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.

The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

CONSTRUCTION AND EQUIPMENT

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM of SAFETY SIGNALS,

Janney Coupler Buffer and Platform,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis, and to all principal points in the far West and South with but once change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

WITHOUT CHANGE

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty, and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A Pleasing and Memorable Experience.

Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Offices of the Company in all important cities and towns.
